

PLUMBERS' UNION AGAINST DISORDER

Strikers Notified Overt Acts
Will Be Punished.

MASTERS ARE PUSHING WORK

Say They Have Plenty of Men and
Are Not Delayed in Orders
by Lockout.

At Costello's Hall, headquarters of the journeymen plumbers and the boys, the statement was made this morning that the Local Union No. 5 does not countenance or sanction any disorder, violence, or intimidation by members in the controversy with the master plumbers.

The journeymen say it is not just or fair to hold the union responsible for the act of any individual member who may commit a breach of the peace in a moment of anger. Each morning, the men and boys are warned against committing any overt act, or doing anything to provoke criticism of the union. It was further said that any member violating this injunction of the union will be dealt with in strict accord with the rules, which provide a heavy fine.

Ask Builders to Recede.

It was intimated today that the directors of the journeymen plumbers will ask the Master Builders' Association to reconsider the resolutions adopted at the joint meeting Wednesday evening, agreeing to stand by the master plumbers.

The master plumbers report the arrival this morning of a number of skilled plumbers from Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York, and word has been received from a dozen more who will be here the first of the next week. Work is not at a standstill, the master plumbers say, but, on the contrary, is being pushed rapidly.

Will Not Recognize Union.

The master plumbers say they will not take back their old employees except as individuals.

The preparation of papers for the injunction suit which the master plumbers have instructed their attorneys to file against the Journeymen Plumbers' Union, is in progress, and the application for the injunction will be filed in a day or two.

COLORED APARTMENT HOUSE NOT DESIRED

Petition of Protest Filed With Commissioners Against One Proposed for Ward Place.

A petition has been presented to the District Commissioners against the proposal to erect a colored apartment house on Ward place, between New Hampshire avenue and Twenty-second street, by a large number of property owners and residents of that vicinity.

The petition signed by about thirty representative business and professional men, asks that the Commissioners instruct Building Inspector Ashford to decline the necessary permit.

Although no permit has been asked for as yet, Inspector Ashford states that the matter has been informally brought to his attention by persons interested in the construction. Under the law, he states, his authority to issue permits is not discretionary, but if the plans and specifications meet with the requirements of the building regulations he is compelled to allow the construction to proceed.

Contingent with such protests, the Commissioners, it is stated, have the power to revoke a building permit after it has been issued by the building inspector, but in doing so are liable to action in law if the builder can show that such action has resulted in damage.

PLAYGROUND EXTENSION PLANS MEET WITH GENERAL APPROVAL

Ladies in Particular Exhibit Marked Interest in Efforts Being Made by Committee.

Great interest is being manifested in the plans of the Commissioners for playground extension and the erection of a building. When Representative Fitzgerald was seen today by a member of the playgrounds committee, he said that he had received more than twenty letters, advocating playgrounds, in the morning's mail. The ladies, especially, are showing great interest in the matter.

As a reading room is one feature of the proposed building this letter from the librarian of Chicago may be of interest.

Libraries in Playgrounds Houses.

Chicago, Ill., March 5, 1906.
Henry S. Curtis, Esq., Supervisor Public Playgrounds Committee, Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir: In reply to your query of recent date asking for information regarding the establishment of branches of the Public Library in small parks in Chicago, I have the pleasure to give you the following facts:

In December, 1905, the board of directors of the Chicago Public Library opened three branch library reading rooms and free delivery stations in three of the field houses in the small parks of the South Side. The South Park's commissioners agreed to provide the rooms and to light and heat the same. The library furnishes an attendant and a suitable collection of books and periodicals. Each reading room has been supplied with about 500 new books, covering all branches of literature, but especially strong in books for young people.

Books may be drawn for home use from the main library at these rooms, over delivery wagon calling twice a day at each room to exchange books. The rooms are open from 12:45 p. m. to 9:45 p. m. on weekdays, and from 12 m. to 6 p. m. on Sundays. The experiment has been a great success, and the only fault to be found is with the size of the rooms, which are too small to accommodate the crowds at certain times of the day. As soon as our fund will permit, we expect to open several additional rooms in other parks.

Very respectfully,
FREDERICK H. HILD, Librarian.

Mrs. Margaret Dye Ellis, legislative superintendent of the National W. C. T. U., is an enthusiastic believer in public playgrounds.

"Washington should be a pattern city," a guide for other cities," said Mrs. Ellis, but her cares of children are negligent. We have until recently had no juvenile courts. We need more playgrounds. Over $1,322,000 has been expended for post exchanges or amusement halls for the army. Secretary Taft is now asking for $350,000 more for this purpose. Sixty forts, barracks and garrisons have been provided for in this way, and sixteen others are soon to receive similar assistance.

"In Chicago, Boston and New York there are not only playgrounds provided for thousands of tenement house children, but buildings in addition have been equipped for their physical and moral well being.

"There is intense interest being manifested by the organizations of women generally for the establishment of children's playgrounds. All would join in their endeavor in this direction did they but realize, first, what deprivations children at the present time undergo.

Where Children Fail.

"Children confined and cramped in cellars and garrets, and restricted to dark, dirty alleys fall to grow and expand. Often they fall into evil ways. Indeed, they even sink into moral perversions and depravities, and the lack of opportunity for healthy development makes the way easy for their becoming criminals."

Mrs. Ellis told of pathetic instances U. S. is an enthusiastic believer in public playgrounds.

SENATORS STUDY CANAL GEOGRAPHY

ARGUES FOR DAM AT GATUN

Bostonian Who Signed Minority Report for Locks Last Witness of His Profession.

A lock canal across the Isthmus of Panama, recommended by the minority report of the board of consulting engineers and generally understood to be favored by the Administration, was defended in the testimony of Frederic P. Stearns, a civil engineer of Boston, and one of the signers of the lock canal report in a statement made today before the Senate Committee on Inter-oceanic Canals.

Mr. Stearns contended that the problem of constructing a dam at Gatun was not an engineering guess. "I am ready," he said, "to subscribe my name to the statement that such a dam can be satisfactorily constructed."

Committee Sees Charts.

With a large assortment of maps, blue prints, and diagrams the witness illustrated his views of the Gatun dam. He said that there should not be the least doubt that such a dam as the minority advocates will be entirely proof against leakage, and that the possibility of a seepage breaking through would be minimized.

He did not go into details regarding the advantage of a lock canal over a sea-level one, deferring an expression of his views until a future hearing.

Senators Are Interested.

Senators Millard, Ankeny, Knox, Dryden, Hopkins, Morgan, Talliferro, and Kittredge followed his statements closely.

Mr. Stearns will be the last witness heard on the engineering of the project. Next week the legislative needs will be taken up for consideration, as the committee expects to have its report for Congress ready in two weeks.

UNCLE SAM BUTTERING MORE OF EUROPE'S BREAD

In a publication of the Department of Agriculture, attention is called today to the unequalled rate at which Uncle Sam is exporting butter. More butter, according to the department, was exported from the United States during the second half of 1905 than during the whole year 1904, and in January, 1906, the exports exceeded 5,000,000 pounds, or nearly one-third of the amount for the year 1905.

THANKS CUTICURA FOR COMPLETE CURE

"Some time ago I wrote you for a book on the Cuticura Remedies and received it O. K. and went and bought the Soap, Ointment, and Pills. They did me more good than any medicine I ever used. They cured me of my skin disease, and I am very thankful to you. My trouble was eruption of the skin, which broke out in spots all over my body, and caused a continual itching which nearly drove me wild at times. I got medicine of a doctor, but it did not cure me, and when I saw in a paper your ad. I sent you for the Cuticura book and I studied my case in it. I then went to the drug store and bought one cake of Cuticura Soap, one box of Cuticura Ointment, and one vial of Cuticura Pills. From the first application I received relief. I used the first set and two extra cakes of Cuticura Soap, and was completely cured. I had suffered for two years, and I again thank Cuticura for my cure. If you wish, you may publish this. Your friend forever, Claude N. Johnson, Maple Grove Farm, R. F. D. 2, Walnut Kaa, June 15, 1905."
